PUGILISTIC TRAINING.

A thoughtful Eastern contemporary well says that "the popular opinion which finds much that is worthy of praise in the method of training pursued by the average pugilist is undoubtedly based on a total misconception of the facts in the case.

It is true that abstinen from intoxicating liquors of all sorts is insisted on while he is preparing for a fight, and that excesses in eating as well as in drinking are for-bidden. Early hours, too, both in resting and rising, are rigidly inculcated. To this extent the system to which the prizefighter is compelled to submit deserves all the commendation which it receives. Beyond this, however, praise can not reasonably or consistently go." When we come to examine the matter closely we find that this is true. Training for pugilism has been going on with us for fifty years, but no one can point to any beneficial effect it has had upon our generation. A few men have been trained to over-exertion and endurance in one direction, at the sacrifice of vitality and vigor in others; the youth of the day has not felt because of pugilistic training any influence that has made its physical development superior to that of the grandfathers. The pugilist is trained to unusual and extraordinary effort, to monstrous output of muscular strength, and to endurance that taxes the vital organs to the uttermost, and these men do not become noted as long lives, or as enjoying the blessings of a healthful old age.

On the contrary, the statistics prove that they break down early and die early. The old pugilists are those; we find, who cease from training before they were thirty years of age, yet the pugilist is not more intemperate than the average of men, in use of food or liquors, and the average man outlives him. Physical training has its evil in the fact that it is not, even, general and proportionately distributed over the man.

The result is, that when it ceases, he runs either to extreme obesity, extreme lean-ness, or wasting of the vital organs, precisely as unbalanced machinery will wear down and give way before its time. Pugilistic is, in short, not athletic training.

The latter looks to the even, easy, general development of all the parts; it takes special care that there shall be no impairment of bodily vigor by the over-training of any one part. It gives as much attention to the abdominal muscles, the back and loins, as to the legs, arms and shoulders, while it is jealous of any trip upon the heart, lungs or other internal organs to which, in the subject trained, they are not fully equal. The athlete is not given to understand that he can afford to neglect his brain any more than his muscles. He is trained, under proper systems, to bring into healthful and natural play all the parts of his body, to allow no muscle by disuse to become useless, and an incubation, to put upon no muscle or limb a strain that may not be shared in due proportion with equal ease by all others.

So it is that the gymnasium, under proper direction, is a school of physical development, while the boxing ring is, as a rule, the school of ill training. The one gives us a better, stronger, longer lived man;

the other gives us phonemically and irregularly developed one-sided men, whose progeny is almost invariably ill proportioned, weak and devoid of vigor, and who themselves soon decay and rarely retain any of the benefits of their early muscular training. To those who have been deceived into the belief that the boxing mania of the day is excusable or endurable because of physical compensations, the subject we have not fully equal. The athlete is not given

RICKS ALIAS WAKELEY.

HE CHLOROFORMS HIS ALLEGED WIFE SUPPOSEDLY FOR HER MONEY.

He Told Her 'It Was Camphor and Was a Sure Cure For Headaches.

Police officer Farrell was strolling along J street yesterday morning about 7 o'clock when his attention was attracted by an elderly and somewhat respectable looking man, apparently about 50 years of age, who was acting in a rather strange manner. He was gesturing wildly with his arms and now and then would yell at the passers-by at the top of his voice.

The officer followed the man for some distance, and becoming convinced that he was intoxicated placed him under arrest and took him to the Police Station, where he was locked up to sober off. He gave his name as J. W. Ricks. Farrell thought no more about the matter, and resumed his promenade, considering it a trivial case, and did not enter any charge against the prisoner, intending to release him when he recovered from the effects of his spree.

Five or six hours after this occurrence, Ben Steinauer, proprietor of the New William Tell House, came to the police station and reported that a woman was in his house who was being treated for chloroform administered to her by her husband, evidently with murderous intent. He said that the couple had arrived Saturday night from San Francisco and had engaged a room at the New William Tell, the room was locked, and several times the chambermaid, in passing through the hall, had heard some one groaning within. The girl finally reported the matter to Steinauer and the doctor was summoned. He found the woman lying upon the floor in an unconscious condition with her hair and clothes disarranged. He attempted to rouse her, without avail, and fearing that she was dying, sent for a physician. The doctor succeeded in restoring the woman to her senses after considerable difficulty.

THE WOMAN'S STORY.

The doctor and Steinauer questioned the woman, and she stated that during the night she had been troubled with a headache, and had gone to bed, and was unconscious condition with her hair and clothes disarranged. He attempted to rouse her, without avail, and fearing that she was dying, sent for a physician. The doctor succeeded in restoring the woman to her senses after considerable difficulty.

A DAY'S OUTING.

At the conclusion of its target practice yesterday, Company A, First Artillery Regiment, under command of Captain J. Newbert, and the Artillery Regiment with the exception of a wild throw to the home plate.

The Oaklands all played well, but Dalley's good work was conspicuous. He hit the ball well, and the result was four perfect field catches. O'Neill, McDonald and Dooley also did good work.

The former accepted seven chances without an error. The Sacramentos were retired on his errors.

The Sacramento players did not strike at all.

TRUSTED THE WRONG FELLOWS.

Bert Jackson Will Go to the State Prison for Life—Other Items.

PLACERVILLE, October 6th.—The trial of the People vs. Bert Jackson, accused of the murder of W. R. Melvin, commenced on Monday and will continue to the Court for one week. District Attorney George H. Ingham was assisted in the prosecution by Prentiss Carpenter, and they made out a strong case. The defendant was represented by C. C. Carpenter. The jury was out one hour, and brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree, and imposed the penalty of imprisonment for life.

Melvin was a rancher, living alone four miles east of Placerville. On October 1, he was found dead in his cabin having been shot with a rifle. A new suit of clothes was missing from the cabin, and afterwards Bert Jackson, half-breed Indian, twenty years of age, was arrested and the ball which took Melvin's life was found to exactly fit Jackson's rifle. The clothes and this ball were found and got trouble in town and was arrested.

It is expected that it was a case of mistaken identity. They were looking for another.

No robbery was attempted and nothing was found to indicate a premeditated crime.

The policeman in charge advised he might have caught him, but didn't try.

They carried the man to a house near by and called a doctor, who could do nothing.

The man was removed to the hospital and the surgeon made an operation.

He had an open and the larger intestine was cut in six places. It was too badly cut to patch, and they took away a foot of it and sewed him up.

He can live a day. He came from town with a month and had no enemies.

Two men accosted a deckhand on a steamer half an hour after, asking if the boat went to Victoria. He stated that he had no time to trouble in town and was arrested.

It is the fourth murder in four months, the second with two blocks. The boat is full of hard characters and "hold-ups" and nothing occurs in town.

The citizens to-night held an indignation meeting, and in the hope of instantaneously and effectively ridding the city of the wayward element $2500 reward for the apprehension of Captain Carpenter. The police have been doubled, but for fear of stimulating some dastard, to swear away the life of an innocent man.

he given an opportunity to-morrow to prove that his aim was sure it would have been a case of justifiable homicide. The families of the young men of Petaluma are with the young man whose aim was faulty.

CRIME IN TACOMA.

A Cold-Blooded Assassination—The Town Full of Murderers.

TACOMA, (W. T.), October 6th.—Another cowardly assassin's hand was last night, and may result successfully. Koch Crosby, a plumber, a son of Captain Crosby, was going home when two masked men jumped out behind him, near Nels on Benicia, and, after a short struggle, struck the ball into the right hip, lodging in the navel. The men ran away, and two others who prints who assisted him, accompanied him. They had no prints. The man who might have caught him, but didn't try.

They carried the man to a house near by and called a doctor, who could do nothing.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Prominent Fresno Man Shot Through the Heart.

FRESNO, October 6th.—A. M. Swanson, a well-known and wealthy lumberman, accidentally shot himself through the heart while driving a team.

Swanson was shot at Pine Ridge and was, at the time of his death, a member of a poker party, playing for drinks in a saloon.

In exhibiting a new Smith & Wesson pistol of a hammerless kind, the weapon was discharged, the ball passing through his heart.

"I have shot myself through the heart," was the dying man's exclamation. He was removed to his home and the Coroner notified, who to-day had an inquest. Swanson was formerly a member of the firm of Humphries, Mack & Swanson. A wife mourns his loss.

ANOTHER BAD HALF BREED.

Wesley Jackson, 60th, has just set for the trial of Michael Murphy, charged with the crime of having killed one Philip Grinley, near Nashville. Murray is a half-breed Indian, and is known to have been with Grinley at about the time of the murder, to have made threats against his life, and there are other circumstances pointing to him as the guilty one. No effort should be spared by the Sheriffs and District Attorney to bring about a conviction.

THE PACIFIC STARTED UP.

The mail at the Pacific mine, this city, was started up yesterday, October 6th, and the two men started on their morning day and night on good ore.

Two fine and one Golden Gate concentrators are used. Much of the future prospect depends on the success of this mine and we will be sure to report from present indications the most enthusiastic predictions of Professor Price, President of the company, being realized.

MOUNTAIN DAIRYMEN.

Some of our dairymen are already getting off the mountain with their stock, but most of us will wait until after the first rains, if it comes before December 1st. Bill Lyons and E. S. Bryant were the first two out.

PROFITABLE INDUSTRY.

The Old Gold State Company has already shipped out $10,000 worth of gold to the state from one quarter since it was started up.

And what is better, Superintendent Matherose is receiving orders faster than he can fill them. As soon as the quarry is fair opened there will be one hundred or more men employed by this company, and a ready sale for all the state they take out.

CHINESE LOTTERY.

When it was discovered that the Chinese were willing to conduct a lottery for the amusement of the Chinese, it was decided at it themselves our people lost interest. Before this discovery was made, however, it was difficult to find five dimes in any one business house on Main street.

HORRIBLE CRIME.

An Estimable Lady Eighty Years of Age Brutally Assassinated.

Grace, October 6th.—A. M. Gilroy, descendant of an old family, gave the name to this place, committed an assault on the widow of Judge Leavens, the lady who had raised the fellow from a baby 30 years ago, living on the ranch of her husband in a town from town. Gilroy got intoxicated in town and left for the Leavens' farm at dusk. Getting home he took a shotgun and drove a sharp boy from the premises, then went and got a gun, pistol and a knife, and accomplished the night in the barn and leaving for the hills early this morning. Mrs. Leavens, as soon as she was summoned her neighbor, Dr. C. C. Carpenter, who came to the city, notifying the officers, who are searching the hills to arrest him. They are known as desperadoes, a desperado, never to be taken alive, having had fierce enemies already with the officers on former occasions.

He is half Spanish, generally well-behaved when sober. He will be killed on sight if offering resistance, as is known to him with a gun, pistol and knife, which he would be sure to use.

Lynching is freely talked of. Mrs. Leavens, although badly bruised and much exhausted, will probably survive even though her four years render entire recovery almost impossible.
